In the heart of Turin, this ceramics workshop invites you to slow down and rediscover the pleasure of creating with your hands through clay, movement, and material. Between hand-building and working on the pottery wheel, you'll experience a creative and sensory journey dedicated to the essential gestures of contemporary craftsmanship.

You can choose between a hand-building workshop, ideal for creating small objects with basic techniques in an intimate and relaxed atmosphere, or a pottery wheel experience where you'll learn to work with clay following balance, rhythm, and circular movement. Guided step-by-step, you'll create a personal piece that will be ready in approximately 10 days.
