

Discover your inner landscape through botanical art and sensory practices in Florence

Florence · Tuscany

- Duration: 1 h 30 min
- Up to 8 people per booking
- Flowers and nature
- Free cancellation up to 48 hours before

Inside a studio in the heart of Florence, this experience invites you to enjoy a moment of connection between nature, perception and handwork, using botanical elements and natural materials. An immersive sensory workshop where observation, listening and creation become tools for exploring your own inner landscape.

During the practice you will work with botanicals, paper and natural materials through moments of observation and guided artistic creation. An intuitive, poetic approach that turns nature, hands and gaze into parts of the same creative process, within an intimate and deeply inspiring space.

A contemplative and creative experience designed for those who wish to live art as a practice of personal connection, presence and relationship with the natural world.

What makes this experience special:

- An artistic and sensory practice guided by Susanna Stigler
- Connection with nature through listening and observation
- Use of botanicals and natural materials in the creative practice
- A poetic and intuitive approach to artistic creation
- Immersive atmosphere, accessible even to beginners
