In Agerola, in the heart of the Amalfi Coast, this cooking class takes you on a journey to discover the most authentic Campania cuisine through family recipes, fresh ingredients, and local conviviality. Amidst the scent of lemons, sea views, and gestures handed down for generations, you will experience an immersive journey dedicated to the flavors of Amalfi tradition.

Guided step by step, you will prepare typical local dishes using seasonal ingredients and simple traditional Campania techniques. During the workshop, you will discover recipes handed down through time, then share lunch or dinner with the group in a warm and genuine atmosphere.

An authentic experience to live the warmest and most convivial side of the Amalfi Coast through cuisine, territory, and Italian hospitality.
